

With 6,300 employees in research, teaching and administration and its unique profile, TU Dortmund University shapes prospects for the future: the interaction between engineering and natural science as well as social and cultural studies drives both technological innovations and progress in knowledge and methodology. It is not only the roughly 34,300 students who benefit from this.

The Faculty of Humanities and Theology comprises the Departments of Catholic Theology and Protestant Theology as well as a joint Department of Philosophy and Political Science. There is an interdisciplinary focus on teaching and research in the field of “Religion and Politics” with special emphasis on philosophical references.

The Faculty of Humanities and Theology at TU Dortmund University is seeking to fill the position of a commencing as soon as possible. The successful candidate will represent the entire field of Systematic Theology in research and teaching.

Professor (W3) in “Catholic Theology with special emphasis on Systematic Theology”

TU Dortmund is seeking an outstanding personality with an excellent doctorate and habilitation (or comparable) in Catholic Theology. Candidates should hold excellent qualifications in the field of Systematic Theology with a focus on dogmatics or fundamental theology evidenced by national and international publications in recognised organs, including peer-reviewed journals, as well as national and/or international collaborations.

A research focus on “religion in social and political contexts” as well as teaching experience at school level is desirable.

Applicants should complement the research activities of the Faculty and contribute to interdisciplinary collaborative research projects within and outside TU Dortmund University. Experience in third-party fundraising is expected.

An appropriate contribution to the faculty’s curriculum, e.g. in the Master’s program “Religion and Politics”, is expected – in the long term also in German language.

The successful candidate will possess social and leadership skills and be willing to be involved in academic self-governance.

The recruitment requirements are based on §§ 36 and 37 HG NRW (state law governing universities in North-Rhine Westphalia).

TU Dortmund University strives to increase the number of women in academic research and therefore encourages women to apply.

TU Dortmund University is an equal opportunity employer and gives preference to candidates with disabilities if equally qualified.

TU Dortmund University supports the compatibility of family and work and promotes gender equality in science.

Applications, including the usual documents (CV, certificates, list of publications etc.), should be sent – preferably by e-mail (in one pdf-file) – to the following address by 08.04.2020

Dean of the Faculty of Humanities and Theology
Professor Dr. Christoph Schuck
TU Dortmund University
44221 Dortmund – Germany
tel.: +49 (0) 231 755 6252
e-mail: christoph.m.schuck@tu-dortmund.de www.fk14.tu-dortmund.de